

Middle Child

Middle Child exist to create work which attracts new audiences to the theatre; be it people who are convinced that the theatre is not for them, people who believe that the theatre isn't an exciting place to be or people more likely to spend their evenings on a night out, at a gig or at a football match.

Their work will always have a strong northern voice, be bold in its approach to form and acknowledge the importance of theatre as a social event - offering a reason to come along early and stay late.

Their work here at Hull Truck Theatre includes Weekend Rockstars, an album play by Luke Barnes which earned rave reviews as well as winning the MTN Development Award at the 2015 Edinburgh Fringe Festival. They have also produced Apples, When You Cure Me and the 24 Hour Plays in the building.

Other Middle Child shows include Saturday Night & Sunday Morning, Cinderella, Jack and the Beanstalk and Modern Life Is Rubbish. They have also worked on projects with the British Red Cross, Force-7, Hull City Council as well as performing at the Rugby World Cup, Freedom Festival and the 2014 FA Cup Final.
